The Dedication of the Lateran Basilica in Rome

DWELLING PLACES

The rabbis of Israel had a saying: “When Israel wandered, God dwelt with them; when Israel had a dwelling, God wandered.” Of course, God did not actually desert the chosen people. What the rabbis were saying was that it is a common human weakness to mistake concrete, physical people, places, and things for the actual presence of the Lord. Israel believed that—among others—the top of Mount Sinai, the Ark of the Covenant, and the Jerusalem temples were places wherein God truly dwelt. They were right, but they also learned that mountains get left behind, arks get lost, and temples get destroyed. When Thomas Aquinas was developing his understanding of the real and substantial presence of the Lord in the Eucharist, it was necessary for him to explain how the physical actuality of the bread and wine got left behind. He knew that, ultimately, our earthly, physical things cannot be, in and of themselves, the presence of God.

GOD’S FORWARDING ADDRESS

The scriptures today use many images for God’s dwelling places: a temple filled with living, flowing water for a thirsty desert people; the flesh and blood of the baptized early Christians, who did not have the luxury of large public places to identify them; the Temple of Jerusalem, tainted by scandalous behavior, which would ultimately be destroyed. But finally, there is Christ, the only-begotten of God, the dwelling-place in flesh of God’s eternal Word. For all the many places the Spirit might lead us to find God, only to Jesus Christ can we look for the eternal, living presence of the one true God. Like John the Baptist, for whom the Lateran cathedral is named, our mission is to know God’s dwelling in us through the water and Spirit of our baptism, and to make our sole purpose in life the proclamation of the Good News of our salvation in Christ.

Today’s Readings: Ezekiel 47:1-2, 8-9, 12; Psalm 46:2-3, 5-6, 8-9; 1 Corinthians 3:9c-11, 16-17; John 2:13-22
 Copyright © 2007, World Library Publications. All rights reserved.

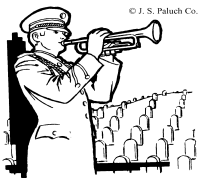

TODAY’S READINGS

First Reading — I saw water flowing out of the temple; wherever the river flows, every living creature shall live (Ezekiel 47:1-2, 8-9, 12).

Psalm — The waters of the river gladden the city of God, the holy dwelling of the Most High (Psalm 46).

Second Reading — Do you not know that you are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? (1 Corinthians 3:9c-11, 16-17).

Gospel — Stop making my Father’s house a marketplace (John 2:13-22).

Let us pray for all of our Veterans listed and all others who have served, and are serving, our country so bravely and faithfully. May God grant them all peace.

THANKS A LOT

JANE ADAMS SCHOOL
Gives Food to Food Pantry...

A big thank you to all the Students and Faculty from Jane Adams school who collected food during Red Ribbon week and have given the food to our Veterans in Irag and the Sacred Heart Food pantry. God bless you all and have a blessed Thanksgiving.

"Every month they shall bear fresh fruit for they shall be watered by the flow from the sanctuary."

-Ezekiel 47:12

Ezekiel's vision of the water flowing from the temple reminds us how important it is for the good steward to spend time with God. When we visit God we are refreshed. From God's sacred house we receive the nourishment we need so that our stewardship efforts will bear fruit.

CLOTHING DRIVE

We will resume our monthly clothing drive next weekend, November 15-16. We plan to have clothing drives the 3rd weekend of each month. Thus far our clothing drives have been very successful. The clothes we collect are taken to the catholic Charities Center at 1400 S. Austin in Cicero. This facility is only 6 miles from Sacred Heart, so it is very accessible to our community. If you know anyone in need of clothing who cannot afford to purchase it, please refer them to this center.

MANY THANKS TO EVERYONE IN OUR SACRED HEART PARISH FAMILY WHO SUPPORT THIS MINISTRY.
MAY GOD BLESS YOU!

REFLEXION DOMINGO XXXII: BASILICA DE LETRAN. UN POCO DE HISTORIA

Hoy domingo, aparece esta fiesta de la "Dedicación de la Basílica de Letrán en Roma". Basílica significa: "Casa del Rey". En la Iglesia Católica se le da el nombre de Basílica a ciertos templos más famosos que los demás. Solamente se puede llamar así a los que el Sumo Pontífice les concede ese honor especial. En cada país hay algunos. La primera Basílica que hubo en la religión Católica, fue la de Letrán, cuya consagración celebramos en este día. Era un palacio que pertenecía a una familia de nombre Letrán.

El emperador Constantino, primer gobernante romano que concedió a los cristianos el permiso para construir templos, le regaló al Sumo Pontífice el Palacio Basílica de Letrán. El Papa San Silvestre lo convirtió en templo y lo consagró el 9 de noviembre del año 324.

Esta Basílica es la Catedral del Papa y la más antigua de todas las basílicas de la Iglesia Católica. En su frontis tiene esta leyenda: "Madre y Cabeza de toda las iglesias de la ciudad y del mundo".

Se le llama Basílica del Divino Salvador, porque cuando fue nuevamente consagrada en el año 787, una imagen del Divino Salvador, al ser golpeada por un judío, derramó sangre. En recuerdo de ese hecho se le puso el nuevo nombre.

Se le denomina también Basílica de San Juan de Letrán, porque tiene dos capillas, dedicadas, la una a San Juan Bautista y la otra a San Juan Evangelista, siendo atendida por los sacerdotes de la Parroquia de San Juan.

Allí se celebraron cinco Concilios, o reuniones de los Obispos de todo el mundo. En este palacio se firmó en 1929, el tratado de paz entre el Vaticano y el gobierno de Italia, Tratado de Letrán.

San Agustín recomienda: "Cuando recordemos la Consagración de un templo, pensemos en aquello que dijo San Pablo: 'Cada uno de nosotros somos un templo del Espíritu Santo'."

"Ojalá conservemos nuestra alma bella y limpia, como le agrada a Dios que sean sus templos santos. Así vivirá contento el Espíritu Santo en nuestra alma".
